Key issues being discussed in the boardroom and C-suite

Executive Perspectives on Top Risks 2021 and 2030

The range of uncertainties facing business leaders around the globe is overwhelming. Challenges triggered by the COVID-19 pandemic continue to unfold, combined with numerous other risk issues, such as growing social unrest and polarization, and ever-present challenges associated with technology and digitization innovations. Staying abreast of emerging risk issues and opportunities is becoming increasingly difficult.

1. Prepare for the next decade by embracing the megatrends, for the future may arrive sooner than you think. Only digitally mature companies were future ready when COVID-19 hit.

- 2. The pandemic experience has changed the world. Digital leaders have stood out in pivoting and quickly reacting to the pandemic's new normal.
- 3. The future of work looms large on the horizon. Adoption of AI, automation and other digital advances are expected to displace as well as create millions of job functions.
- 4. Building organizational resilience and an innovative culture is an imperative. Authenticity and a trust-based culture, top talent with a high digital IQ, effective utilization of data analytics, and a strong customer focus are vital to navigating disruptive change.
- 5. No one expects data security and cybersecurity to diminish. Cyber threats remain a moving target and data privacy concerns only promise to become more complex in the digital age.
- 6. Regulatory risk is elevated when viewed through the lens of a longer time horizon. Portends a focus on environmental priorities, social change and tax increases, as well as an impetus for developing alternative products and services.
