Threat & Vulnerability Management Services

Discover, Prioritize, Assess, Report, Remediate and Verify

With the ever-growing risk landscape, companies face numerous challenges:

- Unknown assets, disparate inventories and false positives lead to frustrated stakeholders.
- Overwhelming number of vulnerabilities require significant time to prioritize and assign remediation responsibilities.

- Lack of actionable metrics and reporting does not justify security spend to leadership and limits visibility for remediation.
- Limited availability of qualified resources in the market to discover, remediate and report on vulnerabilities.

Collaborative Relationship, Protiviti acts as an extension of your team, providing expert insights and helping build a comprehensive VM program that works for all stakeholders.

Vulnerability Management is a Continuous Process, Using an iterative, phased approach to vulnerability management, we build the program with technical staff on the ground, so that you stay ahead of the vulnerabilities and act quickly against new and emerging threats.

Flexible Approach, Protiviti can provide a flexible model that best meets your needs. We believe in developing a customized approach to each vulnerability management program in order to take the burden off your team and streamline the identification to remediation process in a fully managed program.

Fortune 500 Retail Chain

Vulnerability Management Service

Need

Client needed to understand the technical security risk that existed across their 127,000 retail locations. Specifically, the client wanted to identify critical risk vulnerabilities in order to properly prioritize remediation efforts. Due to limited resource capacity and knowledge, Protiviti was engaged to assist the client in running a managed vulnerability management program.

Solution Delivered

Protiviti worked with the client to understand the environment and current state of its vulnerability management technologies and processes. Protiviti scanned all assets in the environment for vulnerabilities, helped prioritize the most critical issues, communicated remediation procedures to key stakeholders and created executive reporting / dashboards to track and communicate risk throughout the managed services effort.

Business Results

Protiviti will continue to support the client in an ongoing capacity. Protiviti's solution helped the client remain proactive in identifying and addressing new vulnerabilities. Remediation support has been provided throughout the project and measured through developed VM metrics and dashboards.
