Why Retailers Are Leveraging a Composable ERP Strategy

As retailers strategize to address supply chain challenges and the customer experience, many have realized there may not be a single best solution for their needs. In comes composable ERP, an adaptable technology strategy that allows an overarching approach to data integration to make change easier and response times faster in an ever-changing market.

Finance Trends Survey: Inflation Emerges as a Top Issue for SAP Leaders

Every year, Protiviti conducts its Global Finance Trends Survey to learn finance leaders' priorities for the next 12 months and beyond. The findings provide an overview of trends and priorities that are relevant to finance and technology leaders alike. Comparisons to prior years' results reveal a shift in finance's focus over time in response to changing economic and business conditions.
