

PROTIVITI INNOVATION SERVICES

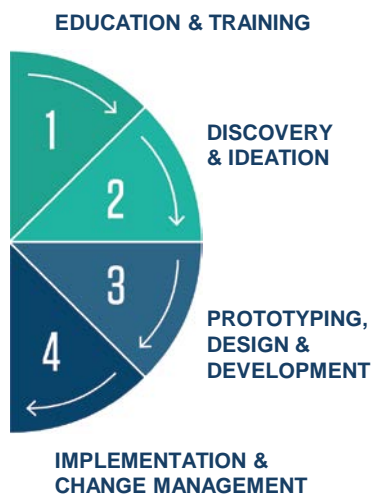

Enabling the discovery and development of breakthrough ideas

Why Innovate?

*CB Insight State of Innovation 2018

How We Can Help

- 1. Education & Training
We equip your employees with the skills and knowledge to develop an effective innovation mindset through practical training tailored for your business function.
- 2. Discovery & Ideation
We facilitate interactive workshops to help you uncover the root causes to current challenges and identify innovative solutions to enact productive change.
- 3. Prototyping, Design & Development
We accelerate your innovation process from ideation to production-ready products/services, leveraging tailored teams of subject matter experts, in-house developers, and partners from our ecosystem to design and develop initial proofs of concept or prototypes.
- 4. Implementation & Change Management
We work with you to build your innovation roadmap, ensure organizational alignment, and then help implement and operationalize your vision. We enable you to sustain and maximize your innovation program.

Protiviti Differentiators

Innovation Mindset

Innovation is one of Protiviti's three core values and embedded in everything we do; we equip our people with an innovation mindset, provide training to all employees in design thinking techniques, and understand what it takes to build a successful innovation culture.

Topic Expertise

We couple our innovation culture with deep subject matter expertise across internal audit, risk and compliance, business and operational processes, security and privacy, data analytics and finance, which enables us to find opportunities of innovation in all areas of your organization.

Global Network

Our global innovation sites, located in Chicago, New York and London, are embedded in our offices and available to all our people across the world. By offering our people rotating secondments at our sites, we have established a global network of innovation experts.

Customer Experience

In the work we do and solutions we deliver, we focus on optimizing the client experience. We consider all stakeholders — customers, employees, regulators, business partners, and shareholders, to help create people-centric innovations that delight stakeholders and expand organizational value.

Flexible Staffing Model

We operate seamlessly with our parent company, Robert Half International, the world's largest specialized staffing firm. This allows us to accelerate the development and implementation of ideas through innovative staffing approaches with our global repository of high-demand talent.

Our Growing Ecosystem of Partners in Innovation

An expansive ecosystem of alliances and partnerships provides us the ability to quickly iterate and build working prototypes leveraging the latest technology-enabled solutions.

We Can Accelerate You Anywhere Along Your Innovation Journey
